CONTENTS

A. D. K. Hawkyard, The Enfranchisement of Constituencies, 1504–1558 1

Jess Flemion, A Saving to Satisfy All: The House of Lords and the Meaning of the Petition of Right 27

P. A. Luff, Mathews v. Lestock: Parliament, Politics and the Navy in Mid-Eighteenth-Century England 45

Chris Evans, Tories and Colliers: The Fate of the 'Act for the Security of Colliers and Miners' of 1800 63

Peter Burroughs, The Northumberland County Election of 1826 78

Nancy Lopatin, Political Unions and the Great Reform Act 105

John Hogan, Party Management in the House of Lords, 1846–1865 124

Stuart Ball, Parliament and Politics in Britain, 1900–1951 243

Joseph Jaconelli, The Parliament Bill, 1910–1911: The Mechanics of Constitutional Protection 277

John Turner, The House of Commons and the Executive in the First World War 297

Philip Williamson, The Labour Party and the House of Lords, 1918–1931 317

Simon Moore, The Agrarian Conservative Party in Parliament, 1920–1929 342

Kevin Jefferys, May 1940: The Downfall of Neville Chamberlain 363

Stuart Ball, The British Parliament, 1900–1951: A Bibliography 379

Notes and Documents:

David Hayton, A Debate in the Irish House of Commons in 1703: A Whiff of Tory Grapeshot 151

Clyve Jones, The Parliamentary Organization of the Whig Junto in the Reign of Queen Anne: The Evidence of Lord Ossulston's Diary 164

Norman Gash, Major William Beresford: Protectionist Chief Whip, 1846–1852 183

Bibliographical Aid:

G. M. Ditchfield and Michael W. McCahill, A Register of House of Lords Lists, 1761–1800 194

Review Articles:

Peter Gaunt, Conflict and Consensus: Cromwell in Context 387

J. P. Parry, Gladstone and the Disintegration of the Liberal Party 392

KEVIN JEFFERYS, Rethinking Labour 221
KEITH ROBBINS, Recent Work on Modern British Government 224

Reviews of Books 229–41